Westland playscape and Budweiser beer trucks don't mix

I wonder who at [Westland] city hall was responsible for putting a Budweiser truck near the playscape in Central City Park?

Caller's devastated by dance company's poor performance

Hello, my name is [deleted]. I want to share the story of my granddaughter's devastation and humiliation at having her spirit broken.

[Granddaughter's name deleted] is six years old and she trained with a dance school in Taylor from September 1998-June 1999 with the foreknowledge that there would be a big recital in June.

She told every one that she could think of -- family, classmates, several of her teachers at school, even the principal -- about her big performance.

Finally the big day came, June 23, 1999 at Belleville High School auditorium. The curtain was at seven o'clock.

I just had surgery two days earlier but I had to be there for her effort.

Her mom was telling us that at the dress rehearsal they were fine tuning the program with the eight performers, and that [my granddaughter] would go on right at the intermission, so we had to sit about an hour.

The name of her number was "You Should Be There Dancing." An hour later, her big moment came. All eight girls were all dressed exactly alike, but there were only seven of them on stage. Her mother rushed out to see where she was. She was only one who hadn't come out. She was standing near the stage where they forgot her.

The rest of us followed to see what could be done because the girls only had a two minute performance, which they worked all year for.

No one seemed to no who was in charge or who would take on the responsibility of restarting the number. They all kept saying, "We can't stop the show because we plan to sell the tapes at $30 a piece" -- which was fine, I planned to buy one.

Afterwards, she was crying

Romulus parade

Mattress firm gets tax break

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A Romulus mattress company has been extended a 25 year $5 million tax exempt bond to help finance new construction of a 100,000 square foot building and the creation of 30 new jobs.

State Rep. Raymond

Basham (D-Taylor) said the Industrial Development Revenue Bonds would assist in the Serta Restkraft Mattress Co. Inc. plans to erect a facility at the southeast corner of Jaykay Drive and Cogswell Road.

Basham said the project is now underway with the land being cleared and construction set to begin at any time.

Completion of the new facility is expected this December.

The land and facility portion of the project will be owned by BeepM, LLC and leased to Serta Restkraft Mattress Co. Inc., a Michigan corporation.

The machinery and equipment portion of the project will be owned by Serta Restkraft Mattress Co.

Rita McLenon retires, served 27 years

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Rita McLenon, one of the most respected figures in Romulus City Hall, retired from governmental services June 30 after serving for more than 27 1/2 years.

In recent years, McLenon had served as administrative aide to Mayor William Oakley. But her career dated back to 1963, when she first served in Romulus Township offices.

McLennon, wife of Norm McLennon, currently the transportation chief of the Romulus School District, revealed they plan to move to Florida.

Her husband has not set a retirement date yet.

Reviewing her long local career on her last day on the job, McLennon said, she began in the Romulus Township water billing department back in December 1963.

She later spent seven years working in the township's building department, which also included serving the ordinance and Civil Defense offices.

McLennon took a leave of absence to concentrate on raising the family's two children (a son and daughter), but that lasted only two years.

She returned to City Hall at the request of Mayor Jimmy Stewart and served as council secretary from 1975-77.

McLennon later served two years in the city's treasurer's office then headed by Helen Gallien and five years in the Community Development office under the tenure of Pat Hogan.

From 1984-89 McLennon served as purchasing agent for the city.

McLennon left city government in 1990 and began working as an accounts payable assistant at Oakwood Hospital.

Five years later with the election of Mayor William Oakley, McLennon returned to city government and took over as Oakley's administrative aide. She continued in that key position until last week.

Seeing McLennon on the job for only a year in the mid-90's, this writer quickly tabbed her as a "Della Street" type -- because of that comfortable mixture of strong professionalism and pleasant easy going on the job relationships.

Della Street in fiction displayed that same resolve as she worked for defense attor-

Lenossi takes over as school board president

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Retired Romulus school bus driver Betty M. Lenossi will take over as the new Romulus School Board President next Monday -- heading a year that could lead to some key changes in the school district.

The only other physical change on the board will be rookie School Trustee Billy McCraight replacing veteran Howard Kesner, who served as last year's board president.

Some of the key issues facing the new board will be:

- a Sept. 20 millage issue looming for the voters that will include plans for a new elementary school, vastly improved technology program, swimming pool at the high school and potentially other additions.

- a decision to complete contract negotiations with the local teachers. The teachers have technically been working without a contract since the 1993-94 school year. The sticking point on a potential contract right now appears to be a grievance procedure that both sides can live with.

- a decision sometime during the year to place the twice a month trustee meetings on the cable channel. Such a TV airing of the meetings has been opposed by the administration for the past few years.

- a decision on whether or not to change the school meeting dates each month, or to keep them the same. Such a change would allow city council and school board members (as well as private citizens) to attend both meetings, when the need arises.

- a decision on who would replace retiring Superintendent Dr. William Bedell -- probably at the end of the 1999-2000 school year. Assistant Superintendent Joel Carr seems to be the front runner at this time.

Betty Lenossi

Norm McLennon

- a decision on who would replace Norm McLennon, the current transportation chief for the school district. His wife, Rita, retired from her city job last week and it is expected McLennon will also step down in coming weeks/months.

and said to her mother, "I worked so hard." And she told me, "Grandma, everywhere I went, I practiced."

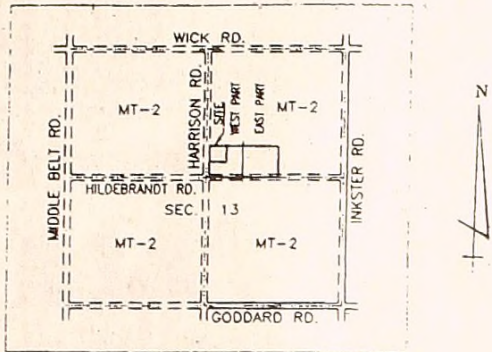

To this day I haven't found anybody who was accountable for this. Just tell us, why was she the only one left behind? She was heartsick.

Our greatest fear was that something could have happened to her when she was left alone.

She was left alone and not supervised as she should have been. We want to know what the dance company is going to do to make up to this six year old. How can you make up for what you did to her. At this point, she's totally devastated. Also, there solution was to take her on the stage at the end of the show and apologize to her, and, "We're sorry that we forgot you." We wouldn't let them do it because all she wanted to do was dance. We wouldn't let them do it because she was crying and upset – she wanted to dance.

They couldn't stop it and ruin their video, even though there was another group that stopped in the middle of a number, went back stage, and came out again – and they were a couple of years older. . . . They waited until after the cameras stopped rolling to apologize.

We already have a river near Michigan Avenue

I agree with the caller who reminded us how important life's little rivers are, but I disagree with the caller's notion that we need to dig a river along Michigan Avenue. We already have a river near Michigan Avenue. The Rouge. If the caller doesn't believe me, he or she can rent a canoe from the county's livery and paddle down the Rouge. It's visible from the land and the air. It appears all maps.

Romulus principal accepts key $25,000 Milken award

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Enthusied Romulus elementary school principal Phyllis A. Adkins accepted a $25,000 Milken Family Foundation award last month in California and plans to help start a school scholarship fund with some of her award funds.

Adkins said she plans to share the information she learned with Linda Cook.

Adkins, principal of Cory Elementary School, was one of four Michigan educators so honored by the Milken family. A total of 160 U.S. educators were cited at the three-day "Leadership in the Digital Age" conference in Los Angeles.

One of the highlights of the conference was a keynote address by foundation president Lowell Milken on "how to attract, retain and motivate educators at a time when the nation faces a critical teacher shortage."

Adkins was impressed that many past Milken Family Award winners had used their winnings to further their education...many earning their doctors degrees.

Various former award winners also returned and presented workshops of their own for this year's participants.

While not pursuing a doctor's degree, Adkins said she will finish her specialist (in education administration) degree, which is 30 hours over a master's degree.

Returning from the upbeat conference, Adkins said she felt "Romulus schools are on the cutting edge of what is happening across the nation - nar-ticularly in the field of technology."

Adkins said she plans to share the information she learned with Linda Cook - who recently was named the school district's technology leader - and others in the leadership team.

She plans to donate $1,000 for scholarships to be awarded to former Cory School students upon their graduation from Romulus High, hopefully beginning this coming year.

to Riches Michigan Lottery Show.

Wilson, 45, who is studying to become a teacher, claimed she sent in her entries for the TV show and "did not even think about being chosen."

The mother of five said she plans to use her winnings to go on a trip.

She earned pointers on which doors to select in the lottery show from her granddaughter, Jasmine.

When not working, Wilson enjoys activities with her five grandchildren, cooking and problem solving.

Marine Pvt. Jeanette M.

Acevedo, daughter of William and Diane M. Acevedo of Canton, recently reported for duty with Marine Aviation Training Support Group, Naval Technical Training Center in Meridian, Miss.

She is a 1995 graduate of Plymouth Canton High School.

Ann Meldrum of Romulus was one of the recent Michigan Lottery winners on June 30 in the "Sound Explosion" drawing second change sweepstakes.

Meldrum and others won audio and video equipment prizes.

Powertrain ranked 'No. 1'

The GM Powertrain transmission plant in Romulus has been ranked number one in a key productivity measure, according to the 1999 Harbour Report.

The plant operations led all transmission plants in the Harbour with a mark of 3.96 hours per transmission. This represents a 14 percent improvement over the previous year, when RTO was ranked fourth among transmission plants.

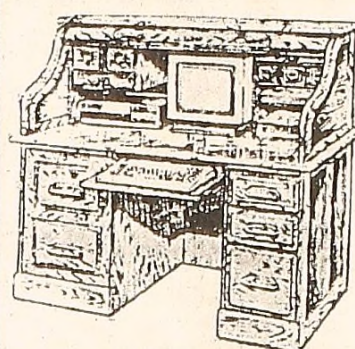

"This recognition is the result of a total team effort," said plant manager Peggy Cummings-Haverberg.

"The entire work force is proud of the progress we've made in productivity, safety and quality. We know we cannot become complacent, since our competition isn't sitting still and neither are we."

Powertrain produces the 4L60-E four speed automatic transmissions for a variety of light truck applications.

Those who achieved 3.5 grade point average included: Christopher Machnacki of Plymouth/Salem High School, Fei Cai of Montabella High School in Inkster and Andrew Oleszkowicz of Plymouth Canton High School.

Otis Martin of Inkster has earned a new partner Victor, a leader dog from the Leader Dogs for the Blind.

Martin recently completed a 25-day, live in training program at the Rochester-based non-profit school that trains adult dogs to bring increased safety and independent mobility to visually impaired persons.

Victor will now lead Martin about the city of Inkster and other nearby areas.

Pizza manager escapes latest teen gun spree

I've driven the route hundreds of times. Embarking west on Michigan Avenue, I drive past Newburgh, past I-275, to Sheldon Road and then drive north a half mile to Palmer. I've driven that route at all times of the day and night and never encountered any trouble.

Dawn Davis, who manages the Domino's Pizza, within walking distance of the newspaper, took the same route home after finishing her shift at 2:00 a.m. June 25. Like me, the scenic drive through suburban Canton was nothing new. She had been down Michigan, Sheldon and Palmer countless times. Nothing unusual had ever happened and why should it—this was upscale Canton where crime is only an afterthought.

Trust me, June 25 was not a typical night. As Dawn hit the intersection of Sheldon and Palmer, shots rang out and her car appeared to be the target.

"At first I thought I was driving through fireworks,"... "but when the glass hit me, that woke me up. That's when I got out of the car."

Dawn abandoned her car in the middle of Palmer Road, ducked down and ran for cover. In retrospect, she's not sure that was the right thing to do.

"When I got out of the car they could've shot at me and didn't, explained Dawn. Lucky for Dawn she escaped with only a small scratch on the back of her leg caused by shrapnel. She was picked up by a passerby and taken to the Canton police station, which is less than a mile away.

Two Canton teens, Zachary Scott Woodby, 20, and Timothy Regan Boster, 21, were arrested for the shooting spree that not only included dumping eleven rounds into Davis's Chrysler LeBaron, but random shots into three neighborhood homes and an empty day care center. One shot buzzed through the window of a bedroom, narrowly missing a sleeping nine-year old. The suspects didn't get very far in their getaway vehicle, a Pontiac Grand Am. After a short chase police caught the pair when their vehicle slammed into a parked van at Sheldon and Michigan. Incredibly, inside the car were three guns—a 410 shotgun, a 16 gauge sawed off shotgun, and believe it or not, an AK-47 assault rifle. One of the men was wearing a bullet pouch at the time of his arrest.

Police wouldn't speculate as to motive, although they freely admit both teens were heavily intoxicated. One can only imagine a night of Jack Daniels, Ecstasy and partying playing heavily into the teens' mindset. With the guns readily available in the car, why not have some real fun and shoot up the neighborhood, they must have thought. After all when your drunk you feel invincible, and with guns in hand you feel like no one can stop you.

Just ask the relatives of Benjamin Smith. He went on a similar shooting spree this weekend, spraying the streets of suburban Chicago. The luck Dawn Davis possessed, didn't transfer to Ricky Byrdson. The congenial former coach of the U of D Titans and Northwestern Wildcats, just happened to be playing outside with his young children when a stray bullet from a Smith gun killed the basketball coaching wunderkind.

We can't stop our teenagers and young adults from partying. We can teach them that excessive drinking is wrong. We can tell them that drugs of any type are harmful. Will they listen? Maybe or maybe not. We can however, limit the availability of guns.

Woodby's father recalled giving Zachary the shotgun for his sixteenth birthday. He never, however, saw the gun with the barrel sawed off. That tells me he had no idea where Zachary kept the gun or that he was maintaining a small arsenal of weapons and ammunition.

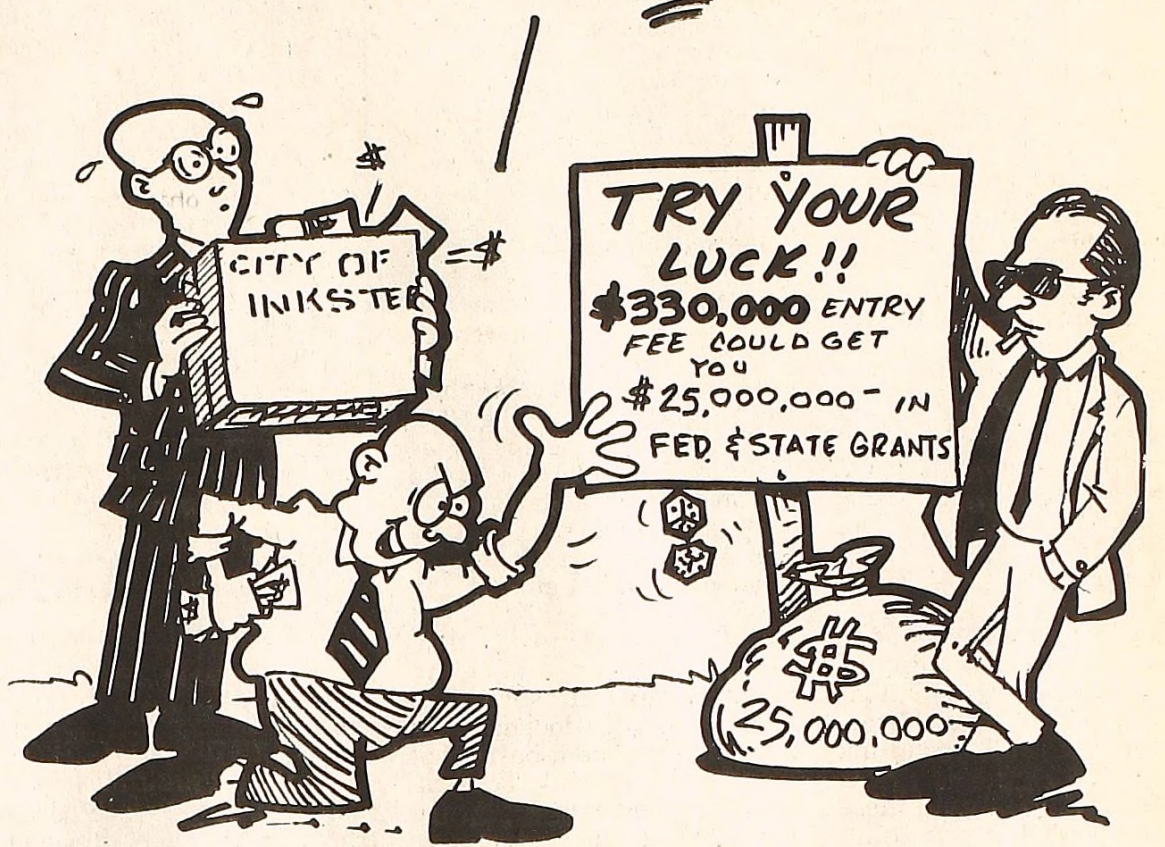

As parents we must police our children. More and more teens are turning to guns as a form of entertainment. Guns kill. They kill family. They kill friends, and they kill innocent bystanders. Only you, mom and dad, can prevent your child from turning to guns. Know where your guns are and know what your teenager is up to. This violent trend cannot continue.

ITS ALMOST A SURE THING!!
WE CAN'T AFFORD NOT TO TRY!!

Council should fight for referendum

If Westland residents live in a democracy, then they deserve a vote on whether to construct a $20 million city hall and recreation complex and where to build it.

The new buildings were proposed by Mayor Bob Thomas, who says that new buildings are needed because the old ones are inadequate, falling apart, expensive to maintain, and would be expensive to remodel, and because a new Summit-like community center would offer current and future residents better services to improve Westland's image.

Despite these urgent needs and wonderful benefits, Thomas has no room for Westland's voters in the decision-making process. Instead he hired a polling company to take a survey of 600 residents -- .7 percent of the city's 86,000 population -- to sample residents' opinions. According to the study, 83% of those surveyed said they were either "very" (51%) or "somewhat" (32%) supportive.

In contrast, several citizens have come to council to question the survey's results, to complain that they weren't surveyed, or to request a referendum.

While a referendum isn't mandatory, it makes sense when so much is at stake. With local government funding down in Michigan, it only makes sense that residents should have a say in the spending priorities.

It might be different if the city had money to burn and no choices had to be made, but Westland isn't in that position. It has to choose between extending the Tax Increment Financing Authority (TIFA) and pumping money into a new city hall and recreation center or to close the TIFA, which captures tax dollars that would otherwise go into the city's general fund and be available for improving other services, including police, fire, and neighborhood road maintenance.

This so important that residents should have a say.

Realizing this, Councilman Glenn Anderson proposed a referendum on the proposal.

However, last week City Attorney Angelo Plakas issued a legal opinion saying that a referendum couldn't be held.

Without having seen the opinion, I don't know what his legal argument is, but I'm sure that we would be in deep doo-doo if his reasoning is correct and referendums are illegal in a democracy.

In my opinion, referendums are part of the democratic process. Without them, we would not be a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.

We would be a government in spite of the people.

If Plakas is right and we have a government in spite of the people, the Westland City Council should challenge the law by requesting an advisory referendum on the construction proposal.

If the request is denied, council should fight the denial all the way up to the US Supreme Court because citizens' right to call for referendums is more important than whether or not Mayor Thomas gets a new city hall.

The referendum process is important because it insures democratic government. It is a corrective to wayward governments. In Michigan, a statewide referendum has capped taxes. In California, referendums have capped taxes, outlawed racial quotas, and cut out expensive benefits to illegal immigrants.

In Westland, a referendum on the $20-million construction proposal would help realign the city's spending priorities with citizen's wishes. It would also give citizens a future tool to reign in the city government whenever it goes astray. City hall could use a few more checks and balances.

Thanks a Million

WEEKLY SYNDICATED COLUMN by PERCY ROSS

Millionaire Percy Ross is known for his philanthropic work. He offers help and encouragement for those in need. He has earned a fortune and a wealth of knowledge during his lifetime and wants to share both. His motto: "He who gives while he lives... also knows where it goes."

The Inequities of Human Compassion

Dear Mr. Ross: I have fought for everything I have in life and now I'm about to watch it all slip away. I'm a single parent. My husband and I divorced shortly after the birth of our daughter. She was born with Spina Bifida and the thought of raising a handicapped daughter was too dreadful for her father to face. I say that tongue in cheek because she has been the brightest spot in my life. She is now 4 years old and life without her would be empty. I knew early on I didn't want to be a welfare mom so I got a factory job. The work is dull at times, but it pays pretty good and has excellent benefits. I'm able to bring home enough money to support me and my daughter.

Her father signed away all custodial rights so he wouldn't have to pay child support. In the long run it's best. Our real problems started though about 6 months ago when her primary care giver moved out of state. Since then I haven't found anyone who has the patience and love to encourage my daughter to do as much as she possibly can for herself. She is regressing. On top of that, the sitter I do have is unpredictable and I've ended up missing work because I had no one to watch her. Relations at my job are strained because of all the time I've missed. I'm walking a tight rope and can't afford to miss another day or I'll be fired.

There's a day care here that focuses on children like mine, but it costs three times the amount I was paying. Is there any way you could help me with an extra $300 a month? I realize that's $3,600 for a year, but if I wasn't so desperate I wouldn't have asked for it. Please consider helping my daughter.

Ms. N. K. ... Queens Ledger, Brooklyn, NY

Dear Ms. K.: I see your point. But then, most parents want the best for their children, whether they're able-bodied or otherwise. I was recently approached by a 17 year old young lady who needed $2,400 to further her dancing career. She came from a middle class family who simply could not afford it. I didn't send it. I guess in a sense that 17 year old is punished for being gifted, while your 4 year old is given special allowances, so hopefully one day she may be mainstreamed in public school. Naturally I'm giving you a year's worth of extra day care and am sending you the requested $3,600. However, it's up to you to increase your skills and to get a better paying job if you want to continue after the first 12 months are up. It's one thing to help people. It's another to carry them.

Dear Mr. Ross: I will not fault you for not responding to my request. I see now that it's too important for your charitable works to support the likes of wayward people. People with vices like gambling and booze. All and I mean all that I asked for was a decent home for my mother. My brother was even going to put up the down payment if you'd pay the balance of $120,000. But something decent like that probably goes against your morals. You're a heathen and I've lost faith in you. However, my faith in God has flourished which must mean you're the devil Himself.

Mrs. T. S. ... Star Banner, Ocala, FL

Dear Mrs. S.: Generally when I turn a person down they just shrug their shoulders and go on. It has been a while since someone resorted to name calling because they didn't get what they wanted from me.

Excuse me, did I ever promise you anything? Just because I'm giving my money away doesn't mean you're entitled to it. And if by some remote chance I would help you, you can be sure I'd be the guy making the down payment and someone else would assume the responsibility of the $120,000 balance due.

No bad kids, just adults' victims

To the Editor:

Barring mental aberrations, there are no bad kids. They are made that way by the adults. I've noticed that on Saturday mornings there are only a few cuddly, cute cartoons left. Most replaced by metallic monsters and horrid robots spewing violence. Another example of showing babies horrifying stuff.

However, I do commend CNN for the spunky videos to guide children with stories of love and gentleness and TV Disney channel.

On another subject: A valedictorian was not permitted to speak at a high school graduation. He was going to tell the students to keep God in their hearts. An amazing thing occurred at another graduation ceremony. A number of voices were raised in the Lord's prayer, and unexpectedly, most of the class joined them.

When prayer was banned in schools, it began a chipping away at the good foundations and traditions of society. Dropping the dress code, rules not enforced, ignoring the tormenting of students. All these weaken the stability and fairness of schools. This is confusing and causing frightening anger to children. It is the age-old battle of good against evil.

NATO's conquest of Kosovo first step toward conquest of world

To the editor:

Victory! The objectives have been achieved. But whose objectives and what are they?

If the objectives was to destroy the civilian infrastructure of Serbia and Kosovo (the region we supposedly were trying to save) then mission accomplished. But no, that was not an objective, it was only a deliberate tactic to achieve a greater goal.

Was the objective to create over a million refugees? No, but they knew it would happen before starting the military action (bombing).

This writer operates on the premise that our leaders are not stupid. For the most part, the results of their actions are intended. As Franklin D. Roosevelt said, "in politics, if something happens, you can bet someone planned it that way." As von Klousewitz, the German military expert adds, "war is the extension of diplomacy (politics) by other means."

Let's recap what we know about the conflict over Kosovo. To do that, we have to start back with the conflict among Serbs, Croats and Muslims in Bosnia. When the Serbian army had been stopped by Croatian ground forces, NATO jumped in with pinpoint bombing and "peace" negotiations were commenced at Dayton.

Although the situation in Kosovo had been festering for several years (since Milosevic voided Kosovo's autonomous status in 1989) the moderate leaders of Kosovo were deliberately excluded from the Dayton peace talks. As a result, those moderate leaders of Kosovo were deliberately excluded from the Dayton peace talks. As a result, those moderate leaders of Kosovo were deliberately excluded from the Dayton peace talks.

The KLA then began to terrorize campaign by assassinating local police (of both Serbian and Albanian extraction) designed to provoke retaliation by the Serbs. Milosevic obliged with a campaign against the KLA that killed at least two thousand. Included in that count were civilians. Serbian military and KLA troops. At the same time, the KLA was conducting a terrorist campaign against those of its own people who would not support its methods.

At this point, the "international community" spearheaded by NATO entered the picture. So called "negotiations" were set up at Rambouillet. There were no negotiations. Milosevic was presented with a document (on a take it or leave it basis) that NATO knew he could not sign. The document called for eventual independence for Kosovo and a complete military occupation of the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia (Serbia, Montenegro and Kosovo) by NATO troops with complete immunity for any of their actions.

Milosevic, of course, refused to sign. As they say, the rest of history. NATO started its bombing campaign, over a million Kosovars were either forced from their homes or fled for their lives and the infrastructure of both Serbia and Kosovo was destroyed.

So which were objectives and which merely tactics. The number one objective was to set the precedent that an "international military force" (in this case NATO) could intervene in the internal affairs (civil war) of a sovereign nation, while ignoring its own charter (or unilaterally changing it).

Another objective, also achieved, was to warn that any future resistance to the "international community" would result in the near total destruction of their country.

An ancillary benefit of the tactics used to achieve the two objectives will be the lucrative contracts to "well connected" construction companies in the U.S. and other NATO countries. Watch for a flood of no-bid, open-ended, cost plus contracts to be given the companies that have supported the "New World Order's" march toward world conquest. The American taxpayers not only had to finance the devastation of Serbia and Kosovo, they will now have to pay for the "reconstruction".

What of the aftermath of all this? Will the Albanian Kosovars be returned to their villages and cities which are now rubble? Will the KLA mount a terrorist campaign against the Serbs who remain in Kosovo? If they do, and its almost a sure bet it will happen, CNN and the rest of the kept media will ignore it and the American public will not be told what is happening, at least not by the "mainstream" media.

This is where we on the internet have a crucial role to play. If the American policy is to be alerted to what is happening, e.g. the globalists' drive for total control of the world's resources and people, it will have to be by the "alternative media" including most importantly, the internet.

Look for increasing schemes to justify government control in the name of protecting children from pornography and predators, protecting the public from "potential" terrorists and whatever other reasons they might come up with.

Stay alert and active!

Gun control shows politicians' hypocrisy

To the editor:

Is there and has there been a relationship between gun control bills and crime in this country? Of course not. This issue has shown our politicians at their cunning worst and hypocritical best.

I was reminded that as an immature 19 year old my government handed me a gun and said "go out there, use it, and defend your country." Then as a mature adult, my government said to me "you're not mature enough to defend yourself, we will do it." You might call this "selective carry." I was handed a gun but not allowed to vote. Today I am allowed to vote but not allowed the weapon for my self defense. Government induces the right to gamble with both our money and our lives.

What is forgotten in the melee is that the police cannot act. The police can only react. In that period of time the mayhem would be over. For anyone to believe that criminals who roam the streets on a daily basis will operate with registered weaponry truly needs an orientation on the facts of life.

These hand gun control laws help the enactors to feel good about themselves just as in the days of prohibition. That didn't work and they had the smarts to back off. They already know that this won't work but so far they haven't what it takes to admit it.

The self-proclaimed renowned journalist Carl Rowan fought tooth and nail to keep citizens from owning guns but when a burglar entered his domain his Smith & Wesson was at the ready and the burglar fled. This kind of incident is not unusual since those who would keep us from defense of our homes and families are the same ones who carry and/or are protected in a myriad of ways. Allowing a Board of individuals, an appointive despotism, to pick and choose at its leisure and with highly subjective criteria as to who can and who cannot be allowed self protection is probably one of the most ludicrous happening of our time.

Just as Bill Clinton has been able to make illegal appointments without ratification of the senate the criminal will never have a problem in finding and utilizing the tool of his trade. Gun law or no gun law.
Sincerely,
George M. Haddad

'It's a race against time'

Expanded playoff format puts pressure on high school coaches

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

The expanded Michigan High School Association's post-season playoff format, effective in the upcoming schools year, will change the timetable for football coaches to get their players and their teams ready for the opener.

And many have mixed feelings about the new rule.

To accommodate more teams in the playoffs, and to silence the critics of the present playoff system - there were teams that finished 7-2 and 8-1 which didn't compile enough playoff points to qualify for the post-season playoffs - the MHSAA agreed to a coaches' recommendation to allow teams that post 6-3 records to compete in the playoffs.

Hence, any varsity team that wins at least six of their nine regularly scheduled games will automatically qualify for the playoffs, according to the MHSAA's new rule.

A high school also must be a member of the MHSAA to qualify.

The decision will increase the number of teams eligible to play for the playoffs.

It will also substantially shorten, by at least six days, the period in which a coach will have to prepare their team for the opener. Critics say that may lead to more injuries, hurt attendance and also cut crowd and student participation.

Some schools also may play an unprecedented two games before the Labor Day weekend. Some school districts don't even begin classes before the last holiday of the summer recess.

Under the new MHSAA rule, opening day for most local and area high school football teams will be Aug. 27, while the first practice for fall sports is Aug. 16th (which hasn't changed.)

"It's a race against the clock to get ready," said Chuck Gordon, Westland John Glenn's longtime and one of the area's most successful high school football coaches. "We will have one less week of preparation. But, then, it will be the same for all teams.

"But the expanded format will also give teams that have winning records a shot at making it to the playoffs, something the critics of the present system have wanted since the MHSAA initiated the point-playoff system."

The present playoff system was initiated in 1975. (Incidentally, the first Class A state title was won by an area team, Livonia Franklin, coached then by now retired Armand Vigna.)

Under the old format, some teams with undefeated or 8-1 and 7-2 records failed to qualify for the playoffs, because of the opponents they played, triggering a wave of criticism, and also resentment by fans who believed the system was not a fair one.

Irwin leads WSGA golfers

A Westland golfer earned top honors in the Second Flight of the Women's Suburban Golf Association's league last week.

Penny Irwin, playing in the WSGA Tournament at Glenn Hurst, shot a 85 which was good enough to claim low gross honors for the day. She had a 13-stroke lead over second-place finisher Bernie Evans, of Franklin, Mich., who turned in a 98 for her efforts.

The Low Net honors for the day went to Wayne's Pat Henke, who scored 59, while runner-up in that flight was Jinny Valentine, a golfer out of Dearborn, who carded a 65.

In the meantime, another Dearborn golfer strolled off the course with top honors in the Low Gross, First Flight.

Diane Wazney fired an 85 at Glenn Hurst, which was one-stroke better than Dearborn Heights' Lillian Vanderbroek who garnered the second-best Low Gross, First Flight, score of 86.

Livonia's June Wright had an excellent day as she toured the course with a 66, and edged Mary Gene Stefanec, of Dearborn, who finished with a 68 for second Low Net.

Junior golfers, attention

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

If you're a beginner or an experienced young golfer who has his eyes on the PGA Tour some day, and are looking for some summer action, the Wayne County Parks and the Inkster Recreation Department have a program designed with you in mind.

The county has teamed up with the Inkster Parks and Recreation Department to stage its inaugural Junior Golf Program. The program is for eight to 17 year olds who will receive free instructions from qualified golf instructors.

The program will be staged at the Inkster Valley Golf Course, located north of Michigan Avenue, on Middlebelt Road.

Officials said that they are also organizing league play for youngsters, ages eight through 12. Lessons will begin at 8:30 a.m. and conclude at 9:30 a.m.

There is also a league for 13 to 17 years, who will have an opportunity to play at 9:30 a.m. until 10:30 a.m.

Golfers who need further information may contact the Inkster Recreation Department by dialing 728-7530.

They're champs

Wayne leagues

3 softball clubs remain perfect

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Like the color green, it also is tough being perfect.

But at least three teams in the city of Wayne's Parks and Recreation summer softball leagues can boast untarnished records after three weeks on the battle fields.

The Que Sports has compiled an enviable 8-0 record and is running away with the 1999 Junior Girls' Youth Softball title. The league-leader has a four-game cushion over the second-place club, New Printing Inc., which has an even 4-4 won-lost record. Amvets Post 171 sits in third place

(3-5) while LaFonataine Toyota has won only one of their seven games thus far this season.

In the meantime, over in the Senior League, the Westland Marlins are undefeated in their seven starts, but they have Garden City No. 2 breathing down their necks.

The twice-defeated Garden City club remains alive and in contention, waiting for a Marlins' fall. Garden City entered the week of competition with a 6-2 record, followed by Westland's Phillies (5-3), Wayne Champion Rack (2-4), Garden City No. 1 (1-6) and the Westland/Livonia Angels (1-7).

Little Bill's Trophies, over in the Blue Division of the Men's Adult Tuesday Night Softball League, continues to dominate the softball scene in that division.

Little Bill's (9-0) has a commanding five-game lead over the second-place Jack Demmer Ford, which is 4-4 on the season. Then, in order, are the Dew Drop Inn (5-4) and W.F.M.C. (3-7) which bring up the teams on the bottom.

In the Red Division, Wear Master Muffler, barring a break-down in the stretch, appears well on its way to the division title as the league-leader has a 9-1 record and

16 teams are set to compete in 23rd Anderson's tourney

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

"With the caliber of teams in this year's tournament, I would have to say that this is one of the strongest fields ever assembled for this summer classic."

Those are the words of Larry Quartuccio, who has 18 blue chip softball clubs ready to compete in the 23rd annual Leonard J. Anderson Invitational Softball Tournament.

The tournament will be staged three days, July 16-17-18 at Anderson Memorial Softball Field, in the city of Wayne, Howe and Annapolis Roads.

There is no admission charge.

Quartuccio organized the tournament in memory of slain Wayne police officer who sacrificed his life in May of 1974 in the line of duty. Quartuccio has kept the tournament going for these 24 years.

The tournament is sponsored by the Journeyman Softball Club and the Wayne Parks and Recreation Department.

Programs are free, and are being made available at the Wayne Community Center.

Along with the tournament action, there are a few sidebars: the 1999 Hall of Fame candidates will be inducted at 9 p.m. on July 17 at the field where the organization will be hosting a hospitality party. There also will be a Home Run

The tournament is sponsored by the Journeyman Softball Club and the Wayne Parks and Recreation Department.

Derby, scheduled for 4 p.m. Saturday, July 17. You don't have to be a player in the tournament to enter the HR slugfest, Quartuccio said.

Quartuccio, who is a manager of one of the top-notch teams in the country, the Journeyman, noted that several of the 18 teams that are entered in the competition this year have already made their mark nationally. His team, which has several sponsors - Journeyman/Varsity, Ques/Eaton - entered the week ranked No. 1 nationally with the USSSA Class A polls.

The field also will include such teams as Maroadi Transfer, out of Pittsburgh, nationally-ranked in the top 10 with USSSA, Class A; Calvert, a team out of Canton, previously known as Prestige, has won the last two version of the Anderson tournament and has another strong contender this year.

The city of Wayne will also be represented by Temple

Seniors invited to vie for city golf titles

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

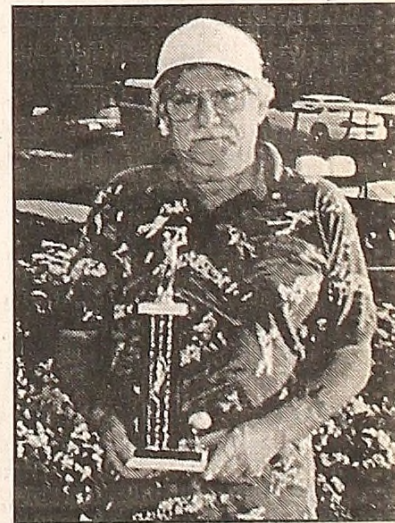

If you're a senior and don't want to take on the young and the bold at the 1999 City Golf Championships, you may want to compete in the flight opened to the seniors.

A year ago, Gary Beer and Bill Hawley, longtime competitors in the summer classic, wound up in a two-way tie and shared the Senior Flight honors.

"Some seniors are hesitant of competing in this tournament because they don't want to play in foursomes that may intimidate them," said Jeff Rutter, tournament director. In recent years we heard from these complaints who asked about a special flight for them, so we now have a flight specially designed for our senior golfers."

Rutter also noted that there have been some exceptionally talented golfers in this tournament, but it also has lured beginners who "want to see what it's like to compete in a tournament," added Rutter, assistant director of the city of Wayne's Parks and Recreation Department.

Rutter, along with Gary

Gary Beer

Clark, Mark Morton, and Keith Alexander, will serve on the tournament's rule committee that handle questions about the Aug. 7-8 golf tournament.

The 1999 City Championships will be decided at Woodlands of Van Buren, located on Ecorse Road, off of the I-275 Expressway. The tournament is open to men and women from the cities of Wayne, Westland, Canton, Romulus, Inkster, Garden City and Van Buren who must live or be employed in one of those communities.

Golfers who reside outside of the designated communities may sign up to compete in an Open Flight. Each city must have at least six golfers, or the competitor(s) will be assigned to the Open Division.

The two-day tournament is based on actual scores of both days. Golfers will be placed in top flights based on the first day scores.

World Series

It's Diamondbacks vs. Blue Jays

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

The Diamondbacks clinched the Western Division title a couple of weeks ago and were waiting for three teams to make up their collective minds who would face them in the World Series.

Now the Western Division champs have the answer.

After a fierce battle between the top three teams in the Eastern Division of the Canton Community Junior Baseball and Softball Association, the Blue Jays surfaced on top and have earned the right to play for the overall championship.

The Diamondbacks made a farce of the Western Division title race as the divisional champions rode a five-game lead, for most of the season, over the trio of would-be challengers - the Athletics, Cardinals and the Devil Rays to the title.

The Diamondbacks finished with an impressive 10-3-1 mark.

The trio that was deadlocked for second place in the Eastern Division never really mounted much of a threat. All kept a distance with 5-9 records.

The Diamondbacks finished with an impressive 10-3-1 mark.

In the meantime, the Blue Jays (11-3) had to fight for the top of the hill throughout most of the campaign. They had a half-game spread over the second-place White Sox (10-3) and were a mere full game-up on the Phillies (10-4), who refused to concede to the frontrunner till the last week, that is, until they met head-on in combat last week.

The Phillies had their chance last week to pull the Blue Jays off their first-place perch and send the season into extra innings.

It didn't happen. Though they made the divisional leaders sweat, they came up short, 12-10, in a game that decided who will represent the Eastern Division in the post season classic.

The Phillies had a rough time getting Alyssa Johnson out. She collected three hits in three at-bats for the winners.

Playoffs

parochial schools automatically participate in the post regular season playoffs. The new football system is apparently a move toward that concept.

One critic of the expanded MHSAA playoff system had some concerns.

Belleville High's Bob LaPointe, in his 31st season in coaching, said that the shortened practice time may lead to injuries to players, sloppy first, second and even third games, and definitely hurt student and fan attendance at these games.

"In the old system, there was time to stage at least two scrimmages before opening day. You're not going to have that now. Time is an important factor here and unfortunately it is not going to be on our side.

"Coaches need time to get their players in shape physically and mentally. Practice time always helps to get ready. Cutting it definitely is going to hurt all of us."

"I was against this (new format) when they introduced it, and I am against it now because it forces us to speed up a process that takes time to develop."

"Also, there will be some schools that will have played two games before Labor Day, and some of those school districts have stayed with the traditional after-Labor Day starting date. Needless to say, they are not going to have many students at those games."

LaPointe also noted that parents in Michigan usually use the Labor Day holidays to go North, some to close their summer cottages.

"These kids will not be at these games, and, after all, isn't the extra curricula activities there for the students?" LaPointe asked. "Watch the attendance. We will lose the crowds."

LaPointe said it is true that there are some excellent teams that didn't make the playoffs, and that the expanded format will be a window of opportunity for them. "but a 6-3 record, I feel, doesn't warrant an automatic playoff berth."

Belleville will open the 1999 season in unfamiliar territory. The Tigers will travel to Fraser.

Romulus' Mark Woodson, who was the Michigan Community Newspapers' Coach of the Year in 1999, also expressed concerns that not enough time will be allotted for team preparation.

"This significantly is going to reduce our practice time," Woodson said, "and like most coaches I have some concerns about that. But the playing field will be the same for all of us."

"I guess we're all going to have to way and see before we really know what affect it will have."

Wayne Memorial's Floyd Carter sees a "rough road" ahead, especially for the new recruits.

Carter's Zebras will play Romulus (at Romulus) in their opener and getting ready for the first game is vital, he stresses.

"It's real tough, especially for the younger kids coming out for the first time because they do need time to get ready. We usually have two scrimmages before the opener, but that's not going to happen now."

doesn't appears to be in danger from a so-so Red Apple club, which is 5-3.

Johnny's B's is 5-5, and Big Dogs doesn't seem to have the right bite for the title. They're in the cellar of the league, with a 5-6 record.

In the meantime, it's too close to call in the Men's Adult Friday night league where Que's Sports (8-2) may have the lead, but it's only a half-point over Drake's Lounge (7-2).

On the other side of the score sheet, Laura Tremonti and Kelly Garber also had a perfect three for three at the plate.

Kuitlin Downey made sure that it would be a Blue Jays vs. Diamondbacks match up when she hammered a decisive home run to lift the Eastern Division champs to a thrilling 9-8 victory over the White Sox.

The Diamondbacks, behind the outstanding pitching performance from Lauren Delapaz and sterling defensive play by Jessie Martin turned back the Athletics 10-4 in a tune up for the post-season game.

The Braves wasted outstanding defensive performances by third baseman Stephanie Glidden, Catrina Alber and Jennifer Williams as the Devil Rays stole an 8-7 decision from their Western Division opponents.

Hilliary Payne also executed a double play for the Braves and teammates played well in their final game of the regular season.

Inkster man's son serving on cruiser in sea near Kosovo

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The son of an Inkster resident, who said he joined the U.S. Navy to add discipline to his life, is now serving aboard the guided missile cruiser USS Leyte Gulf in the Adriatic Sea adjacent to Kosovo.

The sailor is Arlis Kelly, son of Bill Kelly of Inkster, and is one of 350 sailors aboard the cruiser providing support in the war-torn Adriatic region.

Kelly said he joined the Navy for several reasons including "to prepare myself for college and to add discipline to my life."

The young sailor said "I felt I lacked the mental focus needed to truly succeed in life. I believe the Navy can give me that extra focus and self discipline I need."

Now working as a Navy gas turbine technician, Kelly finds that his job gives him tasks that make his life interesting.

"My job is very demanding and requires me to work long hours to get what's needed done," he said.

"The types of engines that I work on supply my ship with the power that it needs to operate. I am required to keep these engines in working order, along with the equipment that runs off the engine," he added.

"You can't get anything accomplished if you can't take things as they are and make the best of them."

- Arlis Kelly

"The best part of my job is knowing that I play a big role in the ship's operation," Kelly said.

The U.S. ship has joined 18 NATO allies and several other nations in providing personnel, equipment and weapons in this peace effort operation.

The 1997 graduate from Swainboro, Ga. high school said "the Navy has taught me that you can't accept anything with a closed mind. That includes people, your job and most everything else."

"You can't get anything accomplished if you can't take things as they are and make the best of them," he said.

The 20-year-old Navy fireman stated proudly "I plan to take college courses during my enlistment so when I do decide to discharge from the military, I will be well on the way to a degree."

Canton ponders building sewer treatment plant

Canton may save rate payers millions of dollars in future environmental costs by switching from the Detroit sewer system to the Ypsilanti one.

The Western Townships Utilities Authority (WTUA) met with board members from Canton, Northville and Plymouth townships on Wednesday to discuss the future of wastewater treatment in the three communities.

WTUA, who provides wastewater services to the townships, hosted the meeting in order to present various options available to the communities to address issues regarding wastewater treatment capacity over the next five years. Board members were asked for their feedback and direction as to how to proceed to address these issues.

From a historical perspective, in order to meet the sanitary sewer needs of suburban metro Detroit, a project named the "Super Sewer" was proposed in the 1960's and studied through the 1970's. The boundaries of the final "Son of Super Sewer" did not include Canton, Plymouth and Northville townships.

In order to meet the needs of western Wayne County, the "North Huron Valley" project was proposed in 1986 by Wayne County, at a cost of $45 million ($68 million in 1999 dollars) to the three townships.

Neither North Huron Valley nor the Son of Super Sewer projects would have provided additional capacity to the three communities. WTUA opted instead to acquire additional treatment capacity at the Ypsilanti Community Utility Authority (YCUA).

Since WTUA did not participate in the North Huron Valley sewer project, the member townships 1961 contracts with Wayne County will expire in 2011. The 1988 YCUA lease agreement had envisioned that plant expansion would occur in the future.

Currently, there are two different levels of service between the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department (DWSD) and YCUA. Flows that are sent to DWSD receive a mostly secondary level of treatment. Flows that are sent to YCUA receive a higher level of treatment.

An analysis of WTUA's wastewater treatment capacity indicates that the three townships will be in need of additional capacity very soon. The late 1980's cost estimate to fix the combined sewer overflow problem was over $4 billion for the Detroit system.

Combined sewer overflows result from sewage flows that are in excess of pipe capacity, due primarily to combined storm and sanitary sewer systems.

DWSD has historically resisted cleanup demands made through the federal EPA lawsuit, and has recently agreed to a $1.1 billion cleanup project for the Detroit system. Officials from the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality (MDEQ) are convinced that much of the remaining $3 billion of work will still be needed.

MDEQ will be able to attempt to force these additional costs on DWSD beginning in about three or four years. WTUA feels confident that DWSD will continue to resist any future demands for combined sewer overflow cleanup projects.

Because WTUA feels that DWSD will continue to resist these costs, it is unclear what the future costs of participating in the DWSD system will be. In addition to not knowing DWSD's cost structure, it is unknown how any new capital costs would be allocated to the suburban customers. The current estimates put the suburban customers cost share at 20 percent of the project.

With YCUA, the communities receive a greater degree of predictable rates because it is unlikely that YCUA will need major upgrades to its relatively newer treatment system. The townships share in the actual operating costs of the YCUA plant, as opposed to accepting whatever the treatment rate that DWSD and Wayne County set. With YCUA, however, the townships do not yet have a say in the actual operations of the Authority (via meaningful representation on its governing board).

WTUA currently serves as the agent for the three member townships in capacity sale negotiations. There are many complex issues connected with the sale of capacity, such as the fact that the value of the capacity to other communities may depend on the cost savings it will allow (e.g. will it alleviate the need for further sewer system improvements).

The materials presented to the three township boards highlighted that the options of expanding the YCUA plant or building their own WTUA plant appear to be the most feasible. These options will be evaluated and the commissioners are expected to begin reviewing their assessments in the very near future.

Jimmy Carter to appear on cable television tonight

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Former President Jimmy Carter will outline how he applied forgiveness toward his own personal resentments, when he appears on the On Main Street program on Channel 17 in Wayne this month.

The shows will be telecast at 4:30 p.m. (today) July 8 and 6:30 p.m. July 9.

Carter, who now is most famous for his work with Habitat for Humanity, will outline the importance he sees in exercising faith and forgiveness in his daily life.

He will be joined by TV host Dr. Dale Meyer in a discussion on Carter's latest book Living Faith.

The half-hour program is sponsored by the Lutheran Hour Ministries and appears on the Odyssey Channel and 46 full power and 31 low power TV stations.

For more information about this program and others call 1-800-944-3450/

The Wayne West-Downriver Chapter of Right to Life-Lifespan conducted an open house at its new headquarters last month in Livonia.

It is now located at 27592 Schoolcraft at Inkster Road, in the Courtyard between the Bakery and Baskin Robbins.

Patricia Holscher serves as the Right to Life-Lifespan director and Linda Kournoian is the office manager.

For more information call 734-422-6230.

As at past Michigan Promise Keepers assemblies of Christian Men, members of the Triangle Foundation have announced their opposition to so called "message of divisiveness and bigotry."

The Triangle Foundation is composed of lesbians and gays in Michigan and thus they each year condemn Promise Keepers for "refusing to accept gay and lesbian people unless they deny and lie about their sexuality."

Alicia Perez-Banuet, president of Michigan NOW, complained when Promise Keepers vow to take on responsibility in our homes, they really mean "taking control."

One Detroit pastor, the Rev. Ron Reinhart of the Episcopal Church, is quoted in a Triangle Foundation press release as saying "Promise Keepers masquerade as Christian evangelists, but their true mission has been to force America to move into a narrow right-wing political direction."

For the first time in its brief history, Michigan Promise Keepers met in downtown Detroit at the Joe Louis Arena. In the past they convened their annual sessions at the Pontiac Silverdome.

The Ladies Outreach Ministry of Bethany Bible Church of Belleville invites women of the Belleville area to attend the Third Annual Ladies Mid-Summer Tea Time in the Parlor from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Aug. 14.

The "menu of speakers" will include: Ruth Sisson and Char Koops, who will discuss "Becoming a Significant Woman."

Attendees will be treated to a luncheon and Victorian dress is requested...but not required, stated Ruth E. Bleeker.

There will be no accommodations for children under 15 years of age.

Reservations need to be called into Bethany Church by no later than Aug. 6 at 734-697-7456.

A Vacation Bible School program featuring Veggie Town Values is slated to begin July 12 at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville.

The VBS program -- subtitled Building Citizens for God's Community -- will be held from 9 a.m. to noon through July 16 at the church located at 417 Charles St. in Belleville.

The suggested donation per child is $5 and it is urged that each child also bring a Bible with them.

Youth from potty-trained three-year-olds to fifth graders are eligible to attend. For more information call 697-9288 or 699-5552.

Church changes locations

The Belleville Christian Community Church is moving its services from Belleville High School to a former store site at 510 Main St. in Belleville (next to Lakeside Jewelers).

Minister Danny Martin said that Sunday services are held at 11 a.m. with a nursery and kids church provided.

Thursday night Bible studies begin at 7 p.m. at the same location. For more information call 734-699-LIVE.

The interim pastoring of the Rev. Ed Willingham will come to a conclusion the end of this month at the First Congregational Church of Wayne.

The new church family: Rob and Jules Joy and their children, Nathaniel, 4, and Shannon, 2 will arrive soon.

Capt. Jeff Smith of the Dearborn Heights Salvation Army Corps has returned from Albania after a month long tour of duty aiding refugees from Kosovo.

In a newsletter to his "soldiers" Smith reported "there were so many occasions during the month when I realized God's protection and care. I was aware of your prayers."

Islamic Center being planned in Dearborn...

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Approximately 40 years after the first mosque in southeast Michigan was constructed in Dearborn, plans are now being formulated to create a multi-million dollar Islamic center.

A groundbreaking for such a massive center was conducted recently on Ford Road, just east of Evergreen and off Alter Road.

"Our new mosque and community center will allow the Arab American community to transform its vision into concrete programs, which will translate into a new self-identity," said Ed Bedoun, a board member of the Islamic Center for America.

"It is no longer enough to just go to the mosque and pray once a week, Bedoun said, "as this era now is demanding a greater understanding and application of Islam to our daily lives."

INDOOR WEATHER FORECAST

"We predict lower Costs."

As chlorine-based cooling systems are phased out, maintenance costs may climb dramatically.

But Carrier dealers began installing chlorine-free, Puron® based air conditioners and heat pumps years ago, and we know two things about them.

Our Puron-based units are the most reliable systems Carrier has ever built.

And they are not about to be phased out.
